- Select any cable channel from a remote TV, even different from the main set. Or example, watch a tennis match, while your children are enjoying their favourite cartoons
- Install your second TV set away from the location of the antenna or cable TV outlet.
- Switch from VCR to DVD player, from your armchair.

Control any A/V source through walls and ceilings!

General operation: The transmitter, which is plugged into the coaxial outlet, includes a TV-tuner. This selects the cable channels. By mounting all your sources in a chain connection, the transmitter will send A/V signals from VCR, DVD, CBL, SAT or CD. To allow you to control any A/V source remotely, the "5 in 1" remote control sends a signal to the transmitter. Just point the remote control towards the receiver.
